Congradulations Scoobs,
 Now you can escape from Beverly and spread joy throughout the world.
 You have done so much - from skiing mountains to scuba diving the oceans
 Exploring caves, hikking a volcano, to building cars - But there's more to do...
 So aim for the stars and
 BE HAPPY
 You'll always be our little STAR
 We love you, Mom and Dad

DON'T FENCE HIM IN

Beverly's Mullarkey hopes for strong showing at Junior A World Cup of fencing

BY JEAN DEPLACIDO
CORRESPONDENT

Jake Mullarkey had a big decision to make recently: travel to France with his family for a fencing competition, or stay home so he could compete in a United States tournament in Atlanta.

The 16-year old Beverly High junior didn't want to slip in the national rankings for his age group — he was ranked 28th at the time — but decided he didn't want to miss out on the trip abroad with his family. So he left for France, and finished sixth in the foil competition.

As it turned out, going to Europe didn't hurt his standings in this country. When Mullarkey returned home two weeks ago, an invitation was waiting in the mail for him to attend the prestigious Junior A World Cup at the Louisville Convention Center in Kentucky.

This will be the first international level event for Mullarkey; 'A' tournaments are the highest level for Under-20 fencers. He's thrilled to see how his fencing skills stack up against the top performers his age from around the country and throughout the world over the three-day competition, which begins tomorrow.

"I've been to Junior Olympics and fenced in the Under-19 Nationals before," said Mullarkey, "but now I'll be going against the best of the best."

Heads Up

Score!!

The BHS Boys Varsity Soccer Team finished off a roller coaster season with a stellar state tournament run.

“You have to play with heart, pride, and courage. That is Beverly soccer.
Head Coach Kevin Leahy”

Junior striker Erik Sheedy, an integral part of the team's offense, takes on a defender near the opposing net.

Senior midfielder Drew Marquart skies for a headball during a Beverly victory over Lynn English.

Girls Varsity Soccer

The Varsity Girls soccer team closed out the season with a record of 5-10-2 and 5th place over all in the North Eastern Conference.

New Head Coach Kristin MacDonald had the girls try a new formation at the beginning of the season, giving them a slight deficit in the beginning. However that did not stop these girls from playing their best.

The team was led by Jenna Alexander, Katlyn Breton and Katie Clay. Games in which the team played their best were against Lynn English, Lynn Classical, Winthrop and Gloucester.

Follow through...

Senior captains Meredith Fiore, Stephanie Annis, and Ashley Charlton were a huge part of this year's girls team and will be missed next year.

“Coming together is a beginning.
Keeping together is progress.
Working together is success.”

Sophomore Jamie Sebastian held her own for the girls tennis team finishing with a final record of 11-2. She was recognized as the team's Most Improved Player.

Senior captain Stephanie Annis played both first and second doubles, finishing with an impressive 11-3 record. She and Ashley Charlton received the Coach's Award.

Boys XC

Record 5-4

Senior Jeremy Sharp, sophomore Jason Kruczynski, and junior Todd Norton were the top runners for the Panthers this season.

“Leif... Leif..
Leif...Leif...”

Boys Cross Country

In September, the Salem Evening News listed both Jeremy Sharp and JP Wioncek as runners to watch, among many runners from other schools in the Northeast Conference.

Although the team did not have a winning record, this season was looked at as a “building year” because many of the top members of the team were young. The season ended with a record of five wins and four losses, placing the Beverly boys fifth in the Northeast Conference.

Senior Jeremy Sharp is a year-round runner and has been an asset to the team for the past four years.

OUTstanding Athlete

Senior Captain JP Wioncek, pictured with Coach Jellerson, is a three season athlete. He had a great cross country season and was a true asset to the team. He added great personality and made the season a lot of fun. In addition to being captain of the Cross Country team, JP is a captain of both Winter Track and Lacrosse.

Field Hockey

You Know!!!

The Panther Field Hockey team worked hard during the preseason and regular season to beat both their rival, Salem, and their record from last year.

“Field Hockey Tradition: playing hard and having a good time.”

Field Hockey

The team worked very hard this season. The girls showed their endurance from the pre-season "gauntlet" until their final game against Salem. We were victorious!

The team was led this year by Coach Julie Flachs, who proved to be just what the Panthers needed. Flachs comes from a history in field hockey, holding University of Michigan's first All-American title.

Flachs and tri-captains Emily Bergeron, KK Salmonsens and Kelly Sullivan led the team, which will graduate 14 seniors this year.

Senior captain, KK Salmonsens takes control of the ball during the last home game of the season against Danvers. KK led the Panthers as the team's only Conference All-star.

Take'Em Down!

And there he is, Armando Cuko and the million dollar kick that has earned Beverly countless field goals over the year.

This year the team was lead by Captain Nate Boynton. The season started off shaky with the first three games, but as the season progressed they improved, ending with a 4-7 record.

“The Panthers ended the season victoriously by beating Salem in the Thanksgiving Day Game.”

Varsity Football

It took a while but the team finally pulled it together giving impressive performances when defeating Saugus 24-14 and triumphing over Lynn Classical with the same score.

Throughout the season we have witnessed outstanding talent demonstrated by Senior Dan Abate, Junior Nick Abraham, and Sophomore Pat Bailey

But the person that caught everyone's eye the most was the star kicker, Armando Cuko.

Golf Time

Tee up!

The play of seniors Joel Filadoro, Mike Klemis, Matt Tormey, and Brendan Fullerton was a huge part of the team and will be missed next year.

“ Miss it, Noonan!
Miss it!
Miss it! ”

Captains Brendan Fullerton and Joel Filadoro worked well with coaches Tommy Smith and William Ferman.

Above: The four Panther seniors all had a strong last season. Below: Senior Joel Filadoro had a strong year himself, going 7-2.

varsity golf

This year's Panther team saw a lot of young talent and looks promising in the years to come.

Matt Tormey has been a member of the squad for all four years of his high school career.

Mike Klemis has made a solid impact in each of his four seasons on the team.

Brendan Fullerton had an immaculate senior year qualifying for the states and finishing second in the NEC.

Outstanding Athlete

Players like Bryan Sakamoto will be put in the leadership role next year guiding the team through the season.

Girls Indoor Track

he Beverly High Girls Track Team went into the season with one expectation - to continue the legacy of being a major competitor for the North East Conference title. They knew that it would come down to one meet, Beverly verses Marblehead, and they trained all season for it.

Unfortunately the meet wasn't as close as they had hoped, with the Panthers falling 51-36 to the Magicians.

The Panthers moved on to finish the season with a respectable 8-1 record, coming in second in the conference. With an extremely talented junior class, the Beverly High Girls Track Team has big plans for next year, as well. They will be as solid as this year competing for the NEC title once again.

Boys Indoor Track

o say the least, the Beverly High Winter Boys Track team surpassed their preseason expectations. Nobody expected them to pose a challenge, nevermind be a possible contender in the battle for the North East Conference title.

However, with an impressive win over

Marblehead, the boys were looking for the title. Unfortunately they suffered a disappointing loss to Gloucester, finishing Panthers 27, Fishermen 59. The season came to a close with a heart breaking loss to Salem.

Girls Basketball

he Beverly Girls Basketball team had an eventful and fun season. Although they finished with a 8-12 final record, they suprised many teams in the North Eastern Conference. The girls always played with their hearts and never gave up. They were strongly led by their three seniors:K.K

This season the Beverly Panthers were led by first-year coach Scott Lewis and Team Captains Martin Gomez and Brian Tobin, as well as fellow seniors Matthew Fellows, Michael Sydorko, Adam Kent, and Jacob Cowan.

The Panthers began their season with a 25 point come-from-behind victory over Malden Catholic. Unfortunately, this was the highlight of the Panthers' season.

Next, the Panthers rolled into conference play, where they planned to have great success. Unfortunately, Beverly failed in its goal of reaching .500 in their region.

In the North Shore Invitational, Beverly still had a chance to win its way into the State Tournament; however, the season ended without making the play-offs. Still, with a 8-11 record things are looking up for 2005-06.

Though most people think that winning is just because of the talent and hard hours of practice every day, the girls could not have been this successful without Coach Marge Robertson, and her daughter Colleen Robertson.

he Beverly High School Gymnastics team had a very successful season in 2005. Formerly known as one of the best teams in the Conference, the girls had a large reputation to live up to. The girls bonded as a team despite whether each meet ended in victory or not.

Led by captains Kelly Channell, Megan Nylund, and Ashley McGilloway, the team was not able to win the Conference, but they had a very memorable year.

Freshman, Stephanie Negrotti qualified for floor and vault at the State meet, and placed 4th on vault. She was a great asset to the team.

NEC CHAMPS-STATES GIRLS CHAMPS-MIAA SPORTSMANSHIP AWARD

The BHS Swim team wrapped up the season with another success story taking their second consecutive NEC title for being undefeated in the dual meet season. With special thanks to coach Brian Cameron, NEC coach of the year, they defeated this year's rival team, Marblehead, 105-80 and placed second overall. The boys placed third at the NEC Conference meet, and the girls won the State Championship meet. With 9 All-Stars, 12 high school records, a pool record, and the MAA Sportsmanship Award, the team had an excellent season. Great job, team, and onward to victory!

Ice Hockey

First team to qualify for the North State Semi-finals in 27 Years!

his year's Beverly High hockey team exceeded everyone's expectations. They were led by a group of ten seniors, including Captains Brendan Fullerton, Ryan Shairs, and Jamie Cullen, as well as Joel Filadoro, John Checchi, Doug Campbell, John O'Hearn, Bryan Pierce, and Aisling Mullen.

They finished the season with a record of 14-4-1. Memorable wins during the season came at Salem State, with Beverly getting wins over division rivals Saugus, Danvers, and especially against Gloucester.

One major aspect of the season was when Senior John O'Hearn stepped in to fill the void after starting goal tender Nick Lavasco went down with an illness. He did the job, and with the return of Lavasco, the team started to soar.

Hockey is not cheap. Success did not come from getting everything handed to the team.

They earned their ice time and events through community service and fundraising that was completed by the players themselves.

Some of the ways they raised money was through raking senior citizens' lawns, cleaning the Senior Center, and landscaping the perimeter of the high school.

The coaches stressed to his players the importance of giving back to the community, because it was them who made it able for them to play.

Hockey Cheering

Starting the season with a new group of girls, it took a lot of work to become a team. With the strong efforts of the captians who successfully choreographed the routine, the girls went to Invationals, held in Peabody, which was some girls' first competition.

After the first competition, where they came in 1st, they continued on to the NEC Competition. Against great competators, the girls placed 3rd, taking them on to States.

The 2-hour daily practices along with early Saturday mornings paid off in the end. The hockey cheerleaders and their supporters were pleased with their results.

The boys had a great season, making it easy for the girls to cheer them on. To support the Hockey Team before each game, the girls had a blast dressing up in different themes.

Marching Band

After three intense hours of practice, and hour-long bus ride, and plenty of anticipation, the Beverly High School Marching Band is called to attention under the bright lights of a very noisy football stadium. Counted off by Drum Majors, Jade Weston, Chanel Robinson, and Christina Davis, the show begins. This is no home game at Hurd Stadium; this is a judged band competition.

These competitions put marching bands to the test across Massachusetts both in the MICCA and NESBA districts regarding marching skill, music, visual effect, percussion, color guard, and general effect. The category of general effect grades based on the impact the show had on the audience.

MICCA awards each category with one to five stars while NESBA, a more competitive show, is based on a score of one to one hundred and in each district, the bands are placed in divisions by size.

So why do so many students at BHS work so hard for one marching season each year? Competing in a high school marching band requires mental and physical discipline, something every member of the band works hard to achieve over the course of the season.

The over-all band was led by Mr. Ray Novack, drill was led by the notorious Frank Raffa, and the color guard was instructed by Lyn Pilanen and lead by captains Amy Marcucci, Lillian Barres, and Amy Kwiatek.

“One band,
one sound!”

The marching band this year was composed of over 150 members and had a very successful season.

Lyn Pilenen laid down the moves for the color guard to the tempos of West Side Story

Concert Band

Following the conclusion of the Marching Band season is the much anticipated Concert Band. All those who participate in marching band are automatically enrolled in the concert band. Throughout the concert season the band performs in the Winter Concert, the All-City Concert, the Spring Concert as well as a annual competition during the spring music trip held this year in Toronto. The band is composed of a wide variety of students ranging from athletes to chorus members. The Concert Band, as well as many of the other musical groups at BHS, is led by "musical entrepreneur" Raymond Novack. The Concert Band always does their best to put on a fantastic show for their audiences and is a big hit here at BHS.

Great Expectations

The week of November 30th, every member of the cast and crew for Beverly High School's fall production of the freshman-curriculum favorite Great Expectations experiences the agony and excitement of anticipation. They managed to steam through a week filled with grueling dress rehearsals and pre-production anxiety.

Come opening night, a talented cast of actors told the audience the story of the classic Dickens novel upon which the play is based, in practiced British accents no less! They gave a performance to remember!

Drama Fest

STAGE RIGHT presents original one-act play at competition

'05 Tom Chalifour's The Dinner Party: A Detective Story

This year at the Massachusetts Drama Festival, Beverly High School performed the original one-act play The Dinner Party: A Detective Story, written and directed by senior Thomas Chalifour. The play was a comedic spoof on old-fashioned Clue murder mysteries with an ensemble of twisted and quirky characters.

The cast included Steven Moffett ('07) as the indubitably stupid Detective Chesterton, Jade Weston ('05) as the fantastically sexy Miss Jessabelle Scarlet, Sasha Madore ('05) as the intelligent French kleptomaniac Claudette LaBouche, Rachel Brown ('08) as the dirty old McDuff, Antonio Hernandez ('06) as the suave butler Cheeves, Vanessa Valdez ('06) as the amputation-obsessed Dr. Nespot, Wil Kitchenmaster ('05) as the quicktempered Judge Perkins, Emily Walk ('07) as the loyal sidekick Sam, and Katie Donahue ('08) as the glamorous Gerty the Emu. Faith Martel ('05) was stage manager, as well as costume and set designer. Mrs. Elizabeth Schlein supervised, co-directed, helped develop accents, as well as lent out her living room for practice space. Crew included: Amy Marcucci ('05), Curran Justesen ('05), Alex Crawford ('06), and Kat Woodbury ('08).

At the festival, Sasha Madore, Jade Weston, and Steven Moffet won awards for acting, and Faith Martel for stage management, as well as set and costume design. The above were initiated as members of the Massachusetts Drama Guild All Star Company for their outstanding performances in the show. In addition to the Drama Festival, The Dinner Party: A Detective Story was also performed at the Night of One Act Plays at Beverly High School during Fine Arts Week. Japanese animation finds following at BHS

Anime Club

Henry Le,
Founder

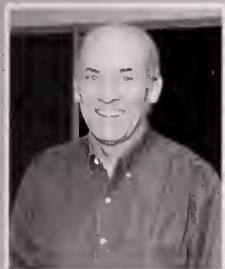

When Henry Le realized that there were no clubs or extracurricular activities at the high school that appealed to him, he took matters into his own hands. He and a couple of his friends decided to start the Anime Club, which meets every Wednesday after school with Mr. Headley and Mr. Bamburger.

Anime is a form of animation created by the Japanese that is a bit different from the cartoons we traditionally see here in the United States. The way that the characters are drawn and the unpredictability of the characters are things that generally attract people to anime.

The characters are drawn particular to the Japanese comic market and have a distinct style.

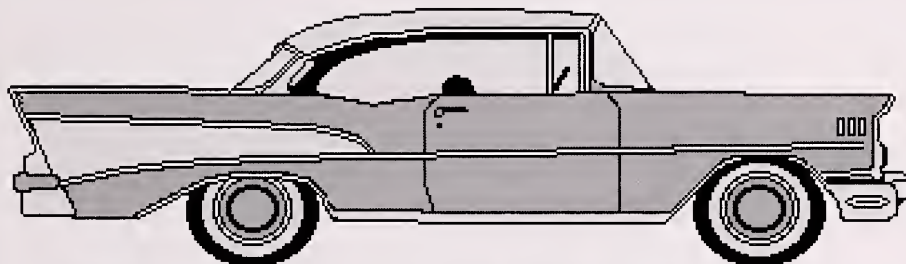

Auto Club

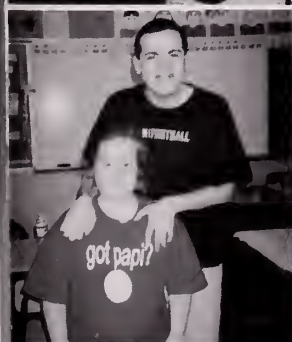

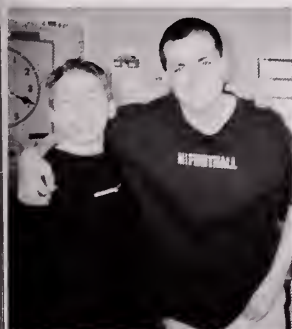

Mr. Jim
Headley, Advisor

The Auto Club allows students who are interested to enjoy their love of cars. This year they went to the New England Auto Show in November and to the Ralph Lauren Collection at the MFA in the spring. They had already seen many of the cars in the exhibit at a private showing at Paul Russell Car Restorations in Essex last year.

Best Buddies

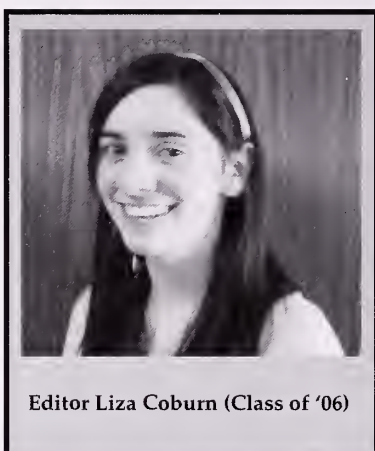

Best Buddies is a national program in which students befriend peers who are intellectually disabled. The Beverly chapter was active this year; attending different events, "Finding Nemo on Ice," the Topsfield Fair, and a Celtics Game at the Fleet Center. The also went to see several movies together. They also made Christmas ornaments and did Valentines Day crafts.

Getting her students to be an accepted part of the community is the goal of Jessica Buchman, who brought the program to BHS last year. Beverly High "has been very accepting and caring," according to Buchman.

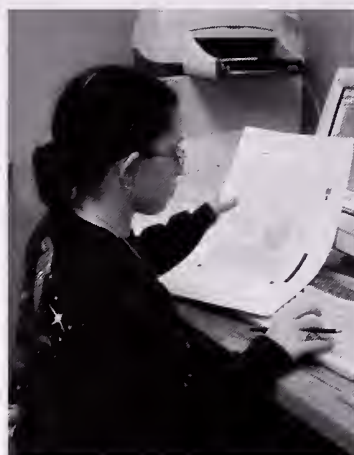

Beverlega

Yearbook goes digital Staff immersed in digital photos and Adobe PageMaker

The Beverlega staff has worked hard to publish another great yearbook. This year we made more use of the technology available to us through the Josten's yearbook program. This technology enabled us to design more exciting layouts and create more room for candid, which are always a favorite. Many non-staff people helped with this yearbook: the Journalism classes wrote copy; Mrs. Gougian answered computer questions; Mr. Tom Keeley from Josten's Publishing Company provided invaluable support; Gainsboro Studios took candid photos at special events; Mrs. Morris helped take yearbook orders. In addition to the yearbook staff, we grabbed countless other students the hall to pick identify people in photos or write copy. Thanks, everyone, and I hope you enjoy the yearbook. -Liza Coburn

Six years ago, Maddy August started the SaTL Computer Maintenance Internship Program at Beverly High School. Since then over 70 students have honed their computer skills by updating, repairing and maintaining the 250+ old and new computers located throughout the building. As a result of their excellent skills, our computers survive long past their expected lifespan and save the Beverly taxpayers money. This program, open to all students with strong computer skills, is currently supervised by Pam Gougian.

Computer Gaming

Computer Lab filled with Counterstrike enthusiasts

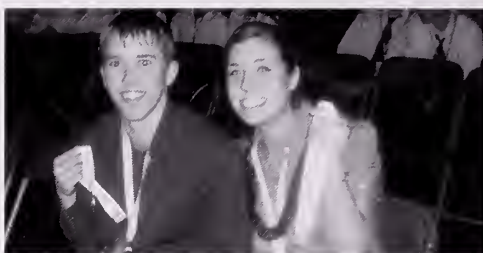

The Computer Game Club is a low profile organization here at Beverly High. The club consists of 24 students who meet in G206 for two hours after school on Thursdays. Ben Russel founded the club three years ago. Now, Bill Moynihan and Matt Woodyard are in charge.

Members of the Computer Club spend their time playing one game called "Counterstrike." The club is an alternative for students who are interested in promoting computer gaming interests that they would normally enjoy at home, but in a more social atmosphere.

DECA

DECA-mazing!!!
Eight qualify for nationals

Mrs. Marescalchi and Ms. Sudak teach marketing classes that prepare students for the DECA Competition.

DECA is a national organization for all high school students enrolled in a marketing program. Students compete against other schools to qualify for the chance to make it to the final competition in Anaheim, CA. This year, eight of the 73 BHS students who went to the District Competition will be competing in the national competition at Anaheim.

Each night at the competitions, students enjoyed a DECA dance and open mic time. They also had plenty of free time to spend with each other.

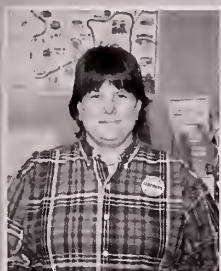

Many of the students who attend DECA are surprised at how much fun they end up having. Cara Chatellier, a senior who has qualified for the National Competition, said, "I wish I were a junior so that I would have the chance to do this again next year." Beverly High students feel very lucky to be a part of this program.

This year's GSA was very active in the GLBTQ (Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender, Questioning) community. They held bake sales and ice cream sales to fundraise money for various causes.

In addition to discussing issues important to them, the GSA also had speakers from PFLAG (Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays) to talk to the student body about diversity and tolerance.

The Day of Silence, which was held on April 13 and sponsored by GSA, was a huge success. Members handed out red ribbons to commemorate AIDS victims and t-shirts to show participation in the day.

Habitat for Humanity

Habitat for Humanity is an international Christian organization that builds homes for the poor. Started in 1970, by Jimmy Carter, it has branched out into smaller organizations, such as the one here in the North Shore, which was established in 1985.

To help low-income families, Habitat for Humanity uses volunteer labor and donated materials that allow them to renovate old houses and build new homes, which are sold to families at cost and without interest.

Beverly High School helps with the organization, as well. It was founded by the '04 Eva Gougian and is currently led by a board of directors. Sara Brainard and Keira Gaudette are the presidents of the Habitat for Humanity Club this year.

The 35 members of the club help paint the houses, and those who are eighteen and older help with the landscaping.

Their next project is restoring an old colonial house in Salem. Each project usually takes about a year to complete.

Sara Brainard says, "It is a great experience because we can help out under privileged people."

Bringin' Flava to BHS

Sophomores Zimmerman and Green
give dancers an outlet at BHS

Anyone staying after school on a Monday or Tuesday who happens to pass the cafeteria will hear the music from the newly founded Hip-Hop Club.

The club usually consists of about 20 members. The success is due to two very enthusiastic students, Ashley Zimmerman and Terrell Green, as well as Ms. Padovani, who oversees and helps to organize the students.

Anyone with a passion for or a curiosity about dance does not have to shy away from joining because of the club's structured, diverse individual groups.

The different groups focus on ability, beginner through advanced, as well as interests in different forms of hip-hop.

Though hip-hop is not seen as a major activity among many young students, hopefully, because of Green and Zimmerman's passion for the dance, other students can see the work that goes into the dance and join up next year.

Hip Hop Club is one of several new clubs that have formed at BHS this year, and it is one of the most active clubs available for students to join. Maybe a competitive Hip Hop Team is on the horizon...

Volunteer Community Service organization aids both Beverly High and surrounding community

This year the Key Club members have helped in such activities as a Halloween Haunted House, Candy Cane hunt and Dr. Seuss breakfast, as well as aiding the American Red Cross and Disaster Relief for victims of the tsunami and hurricanes.

The officers of the Key Club, which was advised by Mrs. Cohen, included: Michael Andruszkiewicz, Lear Brace, Jen Ballou, Kate LaChance, Kristen Archibald, and Ashtar Boulos.

Model UN

Teacher Advisor,
Mrs Ronan

Model United Nations is a club for students who are interested in world issues. Members participate in several weekend conferences per year, where they assume the role of delegates to the UN from its many member nations. Students simulate actual, as well as futuristic, UN committees where, through debate and the sharing of ideas, they resolve problems and shape a better world.

With an influx of members this year, the BHS Math Team had a great season packed with pencils and pizza. Devoted to an extra curricular activity of the mind, the Math Team, lead by advisors Mrs. Dube and Mr. Clement and captains Caroline Mahoney and Zach Decker, had a fun season of challenging their minds with math abilities beyond those of average arithmetic.

Science League

BHS team consistently excels in competition
Lands in Top 10 for the first time since the last millenium

Advisor Ms. Phillips coaches the team on different approaches to the situation at hand.

The BHS Science team gets to think of ways to send Pringle chips in the mail, fling tennis balls 50 feet in the air, and make cars that run only on mousetraps, while competing at a conference of over thirty schools.

With the leadership of Captain Dmitri Boulanov and advice from the brilliant Ms. Phillips, the team has done the best in the four years of its existence by placing among the top 10 every meet. This April, the team hopes to snag their deserved prize - a top three trophy and bring back the recognition that the school deserves.

Dmitri Boulanov,

National Honor Society

Last year the new members of the Beverly High School branch of the National Honor Society were selected and inducted with David Briand being elected as President, Emily Bergeron as Vice President, Sarah Kemmer as Secretary and Katie Clay as Treasurer for the 2004-2005 school year. They kicked off the new year with a car wash. All of the money raised was given to a family in Beverly which had lost their house to a fire earlier in the fall. The event was a success, thanks to the support of the entire community. NHS also gave back to the community by hosting their annual Blood Drive with the Red Cross in October.

In February, NHS sold candy grams to the BHS student body. This fundraiser was extremely successful, as well, selling around 750 candy grams for $1 each and resulting in a school-wide sugar high.

NHS held other fundraisers, such as ice cream sales, throughout the year, as well as continuing their tutoring service. Now it's off to college.

Peer Education

"It takes two to speak the truth - one to speak and another to hear"
-Henry David Thoreau

Ms. Donna Hart, advisor, recruits guest speakers to address current high school issues chosen by the peer educators.

Peer educators are students who want to make a difference by taking control of their lives and helping others to do the same. They are volunteers who care about social issues that affect their peers and their community. Any student who is interested in learning and helping others (and themselves) can be a peer educator.

Every year, peer educators choose the topics that interest them. Some current topics are drinking and driving, violence prevention, AIDS, smoking, anti-vandalism, eating disorders, and depression.

In the fall, the club organizes the great American Smokeout, and in the spring near prom time, they sponsor the Mock Car Crash. Current members are Steph Annis, Caroline Larson, Cara Chatellier, Merissa Parisi, Ashley Charlton, and Leighanne Munroe.

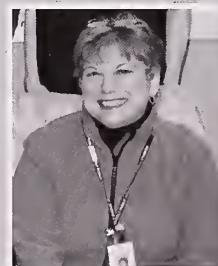

Peer Mediation

Mediation is a process in which people involved in a conflict seek help from a mediator. A mediator is someone who is not involved in the dispute and has been trained to help the parties come to an agreement.

Mrs. Hart runs the program with the help of Mr. Bisceglia, Mrs. Cohen, Mr. Farrar, Mrs. Grasso, Mrs. Kersker, Mrs. McDougall, Mrs. O'Malley, Mr. Sullivan, Ms. Taylor, and Mr. Tobin.

ROTC

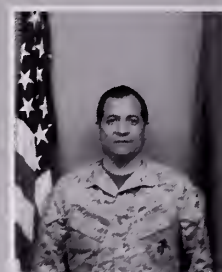

Marine Corps Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps

Led by Major Flores, the ROTC has had 92 cadets throughout the course of the 2004-2005 school year.

The ROTC is a very strict program, with students who get into trouble outside of school or in trouble academically being kicked out of the program.

Good cadets are rewarded by having experiences of a lifetime. They have been color guards at Boston Celtics and Boston Red Sox games and participated in Veteran's Day and Memorial Day celebrations. They take field trips throughout the year, including a trip to Battleship Cove in southern Massachusetts and Civil war forts in Kittery, Maine.

The ROTC has also sponsored fundraisers for needy families in the area, and sponsored close to 150 children with the Toys for Tots program.

Major Flores supervises the Beverly MJROTC from their office and space in the Patten Wing.

During a normal week, the ROTC follows a regular schedule. Mondays and Tuesdays are usually academic days; the ROTC offers a tutoring program for cadets. On Wednesdays they have uniform inspections; all must wear their Marine uniforms to school that day. Thursdays are drill days, and Fridays are focused on physical fitness. The ROTC has a large room in Patten Wing for drilling.

Table Tennis

Ping-Pong takes BHS by storm

Sophmores Marquart and Bailey follow the footsteps of '05ers Briand and Simoes in the alternative sports spectrum

Table tennis members set up their rules and tournament brackets.

Let the games begin!

Ping-Pong has taken BHS by storm this year. The idea that was spurred by Matt Marquart and Pat Bailey as freshmen, became a reality during this past winter. What started as a small club with one donated table has two more full functioning tables. These tables adequately handle the club's twenty-some members who play anytime after school until five o'clock.

The club offers a competitive, fun atmosphere and is becoming very popular with the student body. Marquart is confident that the club's ultimate goal of becoming a BHS sport will be realized. Whatever happens, you can be sure that Ping-Pong is here to stay at BHS.

World of Difference

The World of Difference is an organization that deals with such controversial social issues as racism, prejudice, sexism, and more. The group is made up of students who have been recommended by staff; they receive extensive training in helping their peers come together and put aside our differences.

This club goes into the classroom and helps teach others not to discriminate against race, sexual orientation, age, and gender. Mrs. Donna Hart, the advisor of Peer Mediation and Peer Education is also the advisor of World of Difference.

Senate

Mr. Kelleher is the Student Senate advisor.

The Student Senate is composed of five elected students from each grade. They sponsor outside speakers, such as State Representative Mary Grant, who come to BHS to speak to students about governmental policy and topics of interest to the students. This year the BHS Senate focused its efforts on doing something about student fees for parking and athletics. The seniors on the Student Senate are: Chris Bouton, Ted Quinlin, Laura Macomber and Paul Elicker.

Cleanup Club

Clean Up. Clean up.
Everybody everywhere.

Club Founder and President,
Wendy Rathe

The Community Cleanup Club was established in the fall of 2004 by club president Wendy Rathe. It was established to serve community schools, parks, and other places in need of improvement. During the first semester the club assisted Mr. Fred Hopps in the improvement of the Solar Now field of solar panels. The panels were overrun with weeds, trees, and debris, and the Cleanup Club was proud to help with the removal of the brush in the hope that that the Solar Now field will become a public park that all the citizens of Beverly can enjoy. The club looks forward to continuing to serve the community in the future.

All those involved would like to thank Mr. Dunn for allowing them to use his equipment and for his assistance.

Throughout the winter season, this group of students went to most of the BHS basketball and hockey games to tape, comment, and broadcast the games for Channel 22.

These four young men showed dedication and hardwork by making it to as many games as possible for

CAFETERIA AND CUSTODIAL

Breakfast in the Cafe

The alarm clock that gets students out of bed each morning is not what gets their day started. To some people, a good, tasty breakfast is essential for the energy they need to survive the long, harsh school day, and that can all be started right in the cafeteria at BHS.

Starting at 7:30 AM every morning, students can buy bagels down in the cafeteria. For only a dollar, they can get a bagel, a milk or juice, and a piece of fruit. For 25 cents, regular and light cream cheese are also available, but cinnamon, peanut butter, jelly, and butter are free of charge.

Bagels have been a staple in the cafeteria for about seven years. The staff sells an average of 25 per day, with plain bagels being the bagel of choice.

The newest addition to the breakfast has been New England Coffee. At $1 per cup for regular, decaf or a flavor of the day, it makes a morning run to Dunks or Starbucks passe!

Mrs. Billings

BHS art teacher, Shelia Billings and her sister, Robin Farren, recently wrote a children's book called Work-A-Day Week. The book is meant to help young children learn the days of the week by seeing what people do on those days.

Work-A-Day Week was based on a song Farren had made up to teach her own sons the days of the week. The song is included in the book, and the rhymes make it easy to learn.

Billings and Farren tried to make the book appropriate for any type of family and avoided stereotypes of males and females. Billings was inspired by the diversity at Witchcraft Heights School in Salem, where she used to work.

The two women had such an enjoyable time writing Work-A-Day Week that they have already started their next book, A Melody of Months.

Mrs. Dube

BHS Physics teacher, Mrs. Pat Dube, was featured in the September 2004 issue of Working Mothers because of her decision to switch careers from engineer to high school teacher.

Mrs. Dube is happy to work with students every day and has no regrets about becoming a teacher. She says she enjoys working at the same school where her son is a student and is grateful to have more time with her family. The article focuses on the pay cut Mrs. Dube took by switching careers; she says the move was absolutely worth it. She told the magazine about the difficulty she encountered when students tried to trick her as a new teacher.

Mrs. Dube gave tips for balancing teaching and life: "Cook meals ahead, ask for help, and don't teach in the summer".

Every day, Mrs. Dube shows her enthusiasm for teaching and BHS.

Mr. Swingler and Mrs. Brown

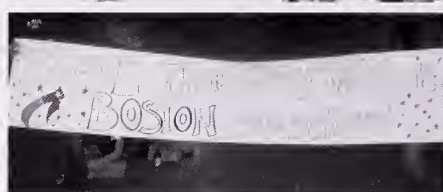

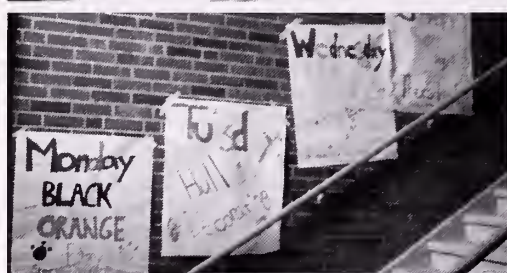

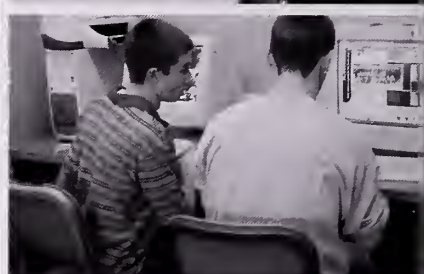

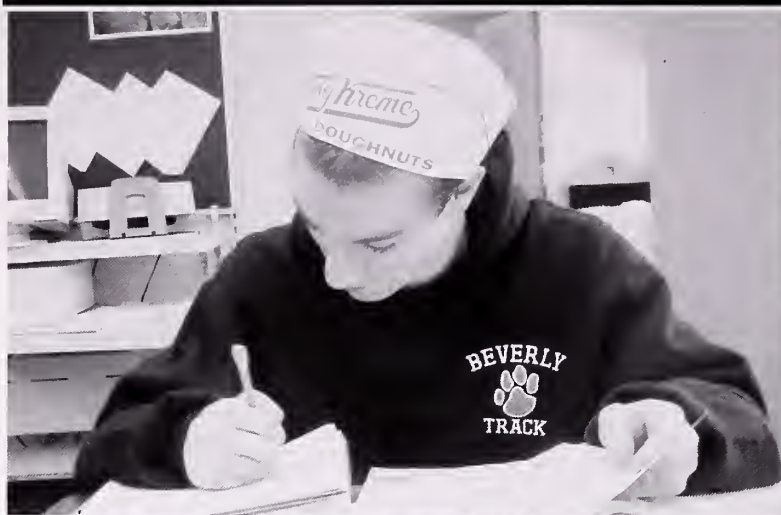

If you haven't noticed by now, Social Studies teacher Mrs. Brown has been absent from BHS this school year. She is in England, participating in a teacher-exchange program. She is living in Eastbourne with her family for the year and teaching children in Year 7, the equivalent of 6th grade in America. She is living in her exchange's home, Mr. Swingler, and teaching all of his classes. Mrs. Brown is enjoying teaching over in the U.K. and says, "Just as at home, the staff members are all very hard-working and friendly. I find that teachers everywhere have good sense of humor. You just have to laugh about it all." Her counterpart, Mr. Swingler, is also adjusting rather well to life here in America.

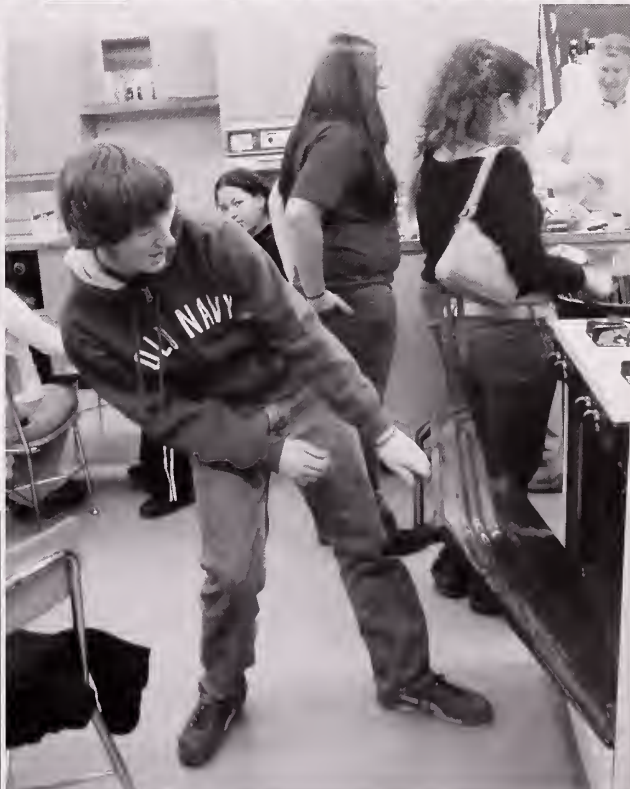

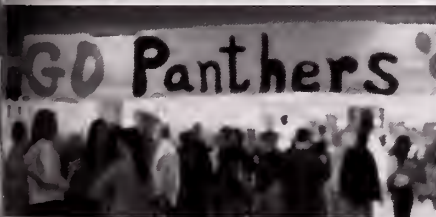

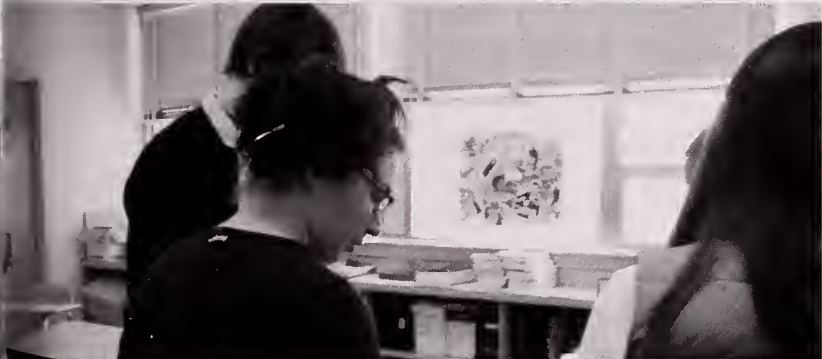

Mr. Swingler, from Eastbourne, England, is now living with his family in Gloucester in Mrs. Brown's home. He is teaching Mrs. Brown's Social Studies classes in BHS and says he is enjoying the experience. "I do believe Americans like school more than British students. For example, if Britain had pride week [like] you guys have, it would be torn down in an hour. I just think Americans are more optimistic." He has been growing slowly homesick, missing friends, family, and his favorite sports of cricket and soccer.

Both teachers are finally adjusting to driving on the opposite side of the road, after a few near disasters. They will return home in time for the next school year.

Congratulations to the Senior Class for winning Spirit Week! This week-long competition between the grades included Black and Orange Day, Boston Sports Day, Hat Day, and a hall decorating competition. Friday was the Spirit Rally, which brought even more competition. Highlights of the day were an ice cream eating contest, a relay race (which ended with a pie in the face for some very lucky class advisors), and decorating the class presidents. For winning Spirit Week, the seniors will be given a barbeque party.
